PRICE THREE CENTS

4 SENTENCED IN COURT TODAY; TWO FINED $500

Four defendants were sentenced by Judge W. C. Sheely in April court this morning. All had previously pleaded guilty to the charges against them.

The longest sentences were six month terms to run concurrently in the county jail imposed by the court on John H. Smith, Hanover R. 3, on two charges of forgery. Because the court had learned that Smith had made restitution for the two checks cashed at county banks and totaling $200, the court told Smith it would hear a petition for parole in 60 days.

Effie Sick Ingram, Germany township, and Theodore F. Miller, Littlestown, who had pleaded guilty to charges of serving alcoholic drinks to minors and allowing unchaperoned minors to frequent their drinking establishments, were fined $250 apiece on each charge and ordered to pay the costs.

Both were warned that second offenses on liquor charges must be punished by jail sentences and both were told either to "put the welfare of the youths ahead of the business or get out of business."

Warns Licensees

"The granting of liquor licenses imposes a definite responsibility on the license holder," the court told them, "and because of the great increase of juvenile delinquency the responsibility has become that much greater."

"It is unfair to holders of liquor licenses who are conducting their establishments properly to allow any holder to act improperly. It was just that sort of thing which brought about prohibition after the last war," the court said.

Farmer "Deferred"

James Mauss, Gardeners R. 2, was brought before the court for sentence on a charge of drunken driving. Because Mauss has been unable to obtain anyone to manage his 300-acre farm while he is serving a sentence the court told him to return June 14 to determine what disposition can be made of the case. Mauss had previously asked the court to allow him to work on his farm during the summer months and then serve his sentence this fall.

Bond Forfeited

William H. Raffensperger, Fayetteville R. D., who had pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving and then voluntarily entered county jail April 12 to start serving his sentence, was sentenced to 30 days in jail starting April 12 and ordered to pay a $100 fine. The court order grants a $75 remission in the fine if it is paid prior to the end of the jail sentence.

The $500 bond of Robert Winter, Baltimore, Maryland, was forfeited when Winter failed to appear in court for sentence on a hit and run charge. A process was issued for his arrest.

BOND DRIVE IS OVER THE TOP

The Second War Loan in this district has been successful beyond expectations. Alfred H. Williams, president of the Federal Reserve bank, Philadelphia and chairman of the campaign in the Third Federal Reserve District today wired Adams county Chairman E. W. Thomas. He said:

"We are over the top and subscriptions from the people are still pouring in."

Sales of bonds and securities already total $734,632,000 of which $549,000,000 came from individuals, business concerns and all types of savings and beneficial associations exceeding by $74,000,000 the goal for the general public.

He revealed that bank applications for the two per cent Treasury Bonds are "coming in very heavily and that allotments of these bonds to banks will be announced next week."

Mr. Williams said: "The foregoing results of the drive are gratifying. They show a forceful attack made by great armies of volunteer workers in every one of 60 counties of this district. Volume of incoming subscriptions is so heavy that tabulation is not possible before next week. Will give you actual figures by counties as soon as practicable. Greatly appreciate your share in the drive."

Returns from counties in the district are mounting rapidly and indicate that practically every county will closely go over the top or approach closely the goals which Treasury officials set at very high figures for this campaign.

Board Considers 11 Draft Cases

The Adams County War Board considered 11 draft cases at its regular meeting Friday evening at the Farm Bureau building. Most of the cases concerned possible deferment of farm youths referred to the war board by the two local selective service boards in the county.

The board also discussed present rationing of farm machinery and methods of alleviating the needs of machinery by county farmers.

PLAN PORTABLE EQUIPMENT FOR SUMMER PARKS

Portable playground equipment to be taken to various vacant lots in Gettysburg for use by the smaller youngsters who are unable to travel the long distances to the high school; and a supervisor to accompany the equipment to see that the children are safe and to give instructions in handicraft, are planned by the Gettysburg Recreation Board, Paul A. Kinsey, chairman said today.

Later, permanent small playgrounds throughout the town for use by smaller youngsters, are also being considered.

Several years will elapse until the ideas are carried out, Kinsey said, but the board has already secured its first portable equipment for possible use in proposed temporary playgrounds.

Sliding Board

A small sliding board, just large enough so that small youngsters can be held by parents or supervisors as they slide, has been purchased and is ready for installation when the town's playcenter opens in June on the high school grounds.

Later on, if the plan proves feasible the board plans to buy other small portable equipment to be used in the future when enough funds are available to engage a third supervisor. Under the arrangements for this year town council has appropriated sufficient money to employ two supervisors for the playground at the high school, Mr. Kinsey said.

Whether or not the board will ask council at its annual budget meeting to provide money for a third supervisor to handle a portable playground next year will depend upon the amount of interest shown by the town folks whose children are served by the playground.

"Jungle Jim"

The small slide is one of two pieces of equipment purchased for the grounds this year. The other, which has not as yet been delivered, is a "Jungle Jim," an arrangement of horizontal and vertical pipes on which a child may crawl. The "Jungle Jim" is about six feet wide and deep and seven feet long. Such "Jungles" have proved popular equipment on playgrounds in nearby cities, Mr. Kinsey said.

Money to purchase the equipment was donated during the winter by civic, fraternal and religious organizations of the town, with the latest donations being received Friday. Several additional donations are expected in the near future.

Plans for the playground this season call for an expansion in the handicraft program—with the board purchasing handicraft materials to be given to the youngsters to make articles under supervision by the playground heads.

ARENDTSTVILLE REPORTS SCRAP

More than 12 tons of salvage material of all kinds were gathered by the Arendtsville Salvage committee in their April drive. O. H. Benson, county scrap chairman, announced today as he began listing the results of the big spring drive conducted last month in most Adams county communities.

Chairman Charles A. Smith at Arendtsville has reported these collections for April: Iron, 4,590 pounds; heavy tin, 3,690 pounds; newspapers, 5,000 pounds; magazines, 6,220 pounds; fats, 3,760 pounds; rags, 350 pounds; silk and nylon, 225 pounds; and tin cans, 210 pounds. The grand total was 24,035 pounds.

April fats collections, reported to date, total about three and a half tons, Mr. Benson said.

Mr. Benson reported that the East Berlin Salvage committee has been reorganized with Archie D. Himes being elected as the new chairman. Most former members of the committee will be retained but others will be added, the county chairman said. No scrap drive was conducted there in April but a May drive soon will be launched.

PUBLIC INVITED TO BENEFIT SHOW

"The production in which 100 entertainers from the Pratt studios, Hanover, will take part is free to the public," Mr. Stallsmith said, "and everyone that can should see it. While a silver collection will be taken no one should stay away just because he feels he can give nothing towards the spotter station. Every cent collected will be used for the spotter station, with the Pratt studios donating the talent and Sydney Poppay, manager of the theatre, donating its use. The show is an excellent production and features a number of local entertainers."

Mrs. Helen Popl, York, was released from the county jail Friday evening after payment of fine and costs on a charge of driving an automobile without a license. She had been jailed Thursday for failure to pay the fine after pleading guilty to the charge laid before Justice of the Peace John Basehore by a member of the local detail of the state police.

FORMER COUNTY MAN KILLS TRIO THEN HIMSELF

Westminster, Md., May 1 (AP)—The bodies of four persons were found Friday in a tenant farm house near Westminster, and Carroll county officers said it was a triple murder followed by suicide of the slayer, a former Littlestown resident.

State's Attorney Donald C. Sponseller said Ralph Milton Wentz, about 37, formerly of Littlestown, shot Mrs. Verna L. Smith, about 23, his housekeeper; the woman's mother, Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Sykes, 56; and Mrs. Smith's son, Sterling, 6. Mrs. Sykes, mother of ten children, resided with her husband at Patapsco, Md.

The two women, both shot through the head at close range, were found seated upright in an almost natural position, while the boy's body was found at the foot of the stairs leading to the second floor. An autopsy showed that the youngster had been shot twice in the head and through the heart, and investigators said this indicated that he had put up a struggle.

Found Dead In Bed

Wentz's body, with a bullet wound in the head, was lying in a bed on the second floor. Sponseller said an automatic pistol was in his hand.

Sponseller, who said officials could discover no reason for the shooting, continued the investigation, aided by Sheriff Charles Conaway, Chief Deputy Lee Crammer, State Trooper I. K. Judy, and Dr. James E. Marsh of New Windsor, medical examiner. The four last were seen Thursday, and Marsh said that the shooting apparently took place some time Thursday night.

Sponseller said that Wentz rented a house three months ago as tenant on the farm of Alvin Duvall, about one-half mile west of Westminster, on the Taneytown road.

Charles Joseph Sykes, husband and father of the dead women, went to Westminster Friday to view the bodies. He told investigators that his wife and the boy, who had been visiting at Patapsco, left Thursday for Westminster to visit Mrs. Smith. That was about 11 a. m.

Duvall discovered the bodies Friday when he went to the house to deliver a letter.

Sponseller said that Mrs. Sykes, still wearing her coat, was seated in a chair in the living room.

The daughter was seated on a couch four feet away, leaning back against the wall.

The boy was lying on his back at the foot of the stairs.

Carroll county court records disclosed that Mrs. Smith and Fern LeRoy Smith were divorced September 14, 1942.

Brought Court Action

Mrs. Neoma Wentz, of Washington, wife of Wentz, brought habeas corpus proceedings against her husband March 27, charging that he had taken their 3-year-old daughter, Lois, from a Washington nursery school to Westminster.

Associate Judge James E. Boylan, Jr., awarded custody of the girl to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edgar Harsh, of Littlestown.

Harvey Wentz, father of the dead man, resides on Hanover R. 2.

Investigate Theft And Wreck Of Car

Chief of Police Glenn Guise today was investigating a stolen car case in which the car was returned two hours after it was stolen to the original site from which it was taken.

Donald Munshour, East Middle street, an employee of the Metropolitan Edison company, parked his car behind the Codori garage, York street, late Friday evening while he went to the light company shed to secure a Metropolitan Edison company truck to go to Bonneauville to make some repairs there.

Ten minutes after he left his car he returned to find it gone. After reporting the theft he continued to Bonneauville and returning found the car back in its original location, but with the left side crushed in as if it had struck a pole.

Munshour said he could not explain how the car had been moved as he had both keys to the car in his pocket. Chief Guise said the car had not been started by joining the ignition wires or in any other way in which he could determine other than by the use of a car key.

FDR Orders Government To Take Over Coal Mines

Washington, May 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt today directed Secretary of Interior Ickes to take immediate possession of all coal mines in which a strike or work stoppage has occurred, or is threatened.

At the same time he directed War Secretary Stimson to take such action, if any, as he may deem necessary or desirable, "to provide protection to all such persons and mines."

The order to Ickes, who is fuels coordinator, said he shall take immediate possession of the mines "so far as may be necessary or desirable" together with any and all real and personal property, franchises, rights, facilities, funds and other assets used in connection with the operation of such mines. Ickes was directed to operate the mines or arrange for their operation in such manner as he deems necessary "for the successful prosecution of the war."

He also was authorized to do all the things necessary for, or incidental to, the production, sale and distribution of coal.

Washington, May 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt will go on the radio at 10 p. m. Eastern War Time tomorrow to make a brief but "very important statement" on the work stoppage in the coal mines.

White House Secretary Stephen Early made this announcement today and refused to predict whether any governmental action was contemplated before the speech, which will be carried on all radio networks.

As the ten a. m. Presidential return-to-work deadline passed today with more than 165,000 miners out in a wage dispute, some action from the President was looked for in some quarters immediately.

200,000 MEN LEAVE WORK IN STATE'S MINES

Pittsburgh, May 1 (AP)—Collieries whose spire-like fipples dot the slopes of Pennsylvania's coal producing hills and mountains were virtually deserted today as the state's 200,000 miners obeyed the "no trespass" edict of their union leader, John L. Lewis and joined the nation's greatest industry-wide shutdown since it went to war.

Throughout the night operators in the soft coal regions, hoping the miners might heed the plea of President Roosevelt not to strike against their government, had watched in vain for a sign that might reverse the trend towards a complete shutdown which set in a week ago.

Hours before the midnight deadline—when the extended united mine workers contract with the operators expired—more than 40,000 coal diggers already had checked in their lamps and gone home to await word from Lewis.

Some shifts at 9:30 p. m., others at 10:30 and 11. But, by and large, the heavy "regular" day shift is the one going into the pits around 7 a. m. Reports from all parts of the vast soft coal region now employing 117,000 men were the same—none but maintenance men, necessary to keep the mines in condition, entered the mines.

A check after the time for the regular day shifts to report, disclosed virtually every mine not only closed entirely, but the fact that there were no pickets.

BENSON CLAIMS COUNTY SHORT OF FATS QUOTA

Twenty thousand more 37 millimeter anti-aircraft shells could have been fired by members of the U. S. armed forces if Adams county had met its quota for saving fats during the month of March.

O. H. Benson, chairman of the county salvage committee pointed out that fact today in announcing that the county had to secure "four tons of fats each month in order to meet its obligations in the national drive for waste fats to be made into glycerine for explosives."

The county saved 3,000 pounds of fats during March, Mr. Benson said, bettering the average since the beginning of the year by 500 pounds for the month. The amount is still 5,000 pounds lower than the quota.

Also Used in Paints

Each pound of waste cooking fats will produce enough glycerine to make one and one-third pounds of gunpowder, or enough to fire four 37 millimeter anti-aircraft shells, he pointed out. Two pounds of fats will make enough glycerine for a pound of dynamite, or will fire five 37 millimeter anti-tank shells.

But the glycerine from the fats is not only used to make explosives, Mr. Benson pointed out. "Of primary importance is glycerine's role in the paints that coat our ships, tanks, guns and other machinery of war. Paints made of alkyl resins, for which glycerine is essential are especially tough and lasting and such paint is used on jeeps, gun carriages and army trucks which need the most durable coats."

"Today the woman in-the-kitchen is called upon to be a soldier in the common effort. Besides the fats being useful for explosives and paint they are also a base for medicines. Fats and oils are the basis of glycerine, and glycerine is one of the mightiest and most versatile war necessities."

Need 200 Million Pounds

"The need for household fats has increased greatly in the past few months," Benson said. "The need was formerly 60th in the list of greatest needs of the nation—now it has jumped to fourth place."

"American housewives sent 27,453,250 pounds of fats to war during the first six months of the drive, but the need is greater than the amount so far collected," Mr. Benson said. "The nation-wide goal is to collect 200 million pounds of waste fats. Only in that way can the nation's returns offset the losses sustained by the cutting off of imports from the Pacific areas from which our glycerine was formerly obtained."

"That amount should be easy to collect," he said, "because the government estimates that something like two billion pounds of valuable fats were wasted annually in this country by pouring kitchen waste fats into garbage cans or down drains."

Aerial fights on red front

By EDDIE GILMORE
Moscow, May 1 (AP)—Major air battles continued up and down the long Russian front today with the sharpest fights above the narrow Kuban bridgehead the Germans hold in the western Caucasus, while on the Donets river front a company of Nazi automatic riflemen who forded the river were exterminated or forced to swim back to safety through the icy waters.

The Donets action was south of Izyum in the sector 70 miles south-east of Kharkov. The noon communiqué said the greater part of the Germans who crossed were wiped out and "only a few managed to swim back to the right bank." A company nominally numbers 250 men.

The latest communiqué and dispatches told of no renewed land activity in the Kuban, but there was no reason to believe the Red army was not still driving against the foe deployed between Novorossisk and the Taman peninsula leading to the Crimea.

(A Russian war bulletin, recorded in London by the Soviet Radio Monitor, pointed up German assertions that 150,000 Russians have launched a new drive against Novorossisk and the German-held area northward in the Taman peninsula, although the German statements said attacks were unsuccessful.)

Russian Stormovik planes were credited with destroying "dozens of enemy guns while assisting land troops." Continued raids were made on railroad stations and other communications, day and night.

U-BOATS ARE HUNTED; JAP SUBS ACTIVE

Washington, May 1 (AP)—Signs that the German U-boats soon may be the hunted instead of the hunters in North Atlantic sea lanes coincided today with hints that Japanese subs have shifted their under-sea strategy and started raiding South Pacific supply lines in Nazi wolf pack style.

Reversal of the German role was seen in a Canadian announcement disclosing realignment of commands and greatly expanded protection for vital convoys moving between Canada and England.

The switch in Japanese undersea tactics—hitherto limited largely to battle action in conjunction with warships—was indicated in a communiqué from General Douglas MacArthur's Allied headquarters in Australia. It said the Japanese have opened a submarine attack "in some force in the waters east of Australia."

To Extend Air Patrols
East of Australia means the Coral sea and beyond there the ocean lanes used by the Allies for reinforcement and supply. Thus, it would seem the enemy attack is definitely directed against the supply lines from America and between Australia, New Guinea, New Zealand and New Caledonia, despite the communiqué's dearth of details—details which MacArthur said would be supplied as soon as they will not assist the enemy.

However, the Atlantic action picture seemed more clear. Most important new anti-submarine phase seen here in the Canadian announcement is a planned extension of air patrols from Canada eastward and Britain westward to close a 500-mile gap in mid-Atlantic where the convoy lanes up to now have been without air protection.

200,000 MEN

but the day shift did not report. The coal which was dug early this morning there was not dumped from the mine cars.

The ranks of the idle were swelled by recruits from the 83,000 who produce the nation's entire anthracite supply from mines in nine counties in Eastern Pennsylvania. The hard coal miners had only brief notice that their representatives in New York had failed either to agree on a new contract or an extension of the old which expired at midnight Friday.

Thus for the first time since 1922 both hard and soft coal miners were idle.

The standstill came virtually without incident. Long accustomed to stoppages and strikes in the union's never-ending fight to raise wages and living standards, the miners arranged maintenance crews and posted a few pickets.

Cut Steel Output
Steel men said a week's shutdown would cause a drop of 8 to 15 per cent in steel production.

Governor Edward Martin, Republican, and a retired major general, who announced yesterday he was solidly behind President Roosevelt, was in Uniontown, in the heart of the rich Connellsville coke region, to attend a scheduled parade tonight, marking celebration of the seventh annual "Americanism" Day.

Thousands of miners were expected to be among the 15,000 paraders.

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The sweeping work stoppage in the nation's war vital coal industry was greeted in the capital today by grim silence from the White House and short tempers elsewhere as charges flew and lawmakers laid plans to take a hand with drastic labor legislation.

There was no immediate indication early today as to what action is contemplated by President Roosevelt whose powers to deal with the crisis vary from persuasion to martial law, but from Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, came the tip-off that the administration may count heavily on appeals to the miners' patriotism to support whatever course is followed.

Scores Lewis
The usually soft-voiced Hoosier swung to sharp words last night in his weekly radio address and said that enemy planes and submarines have not stopped supplies from reaching American forces in Tunisia, "but John L. Lewis may stop them."

but touched off speculation on these possibilities:

Fleet's Objective
1. With Tunisian land fighting deadlocked by stiffening German defenses, the fleet might be enroute to strike at the enemy rear along the Gulf of Tunis.

2. It might be moving to cut off the line of Axis escape from the North African bridgehead.

3. Or finally, it might even be directed against the enemy's vital supply bases in Sicily and Sardinia.

An Axis dispatch from Al Linea, Spain, next door to Gibraltar, said the movement included a huge convoy guarded by the British battleships Rodney and Malaya, the battle cruiser Renown, and the aircraft carriers Furious, Illustrious and Argus along with many escorting vessels.

"Spanish observers are convinced that major action in the Mediterranean is imminent," the broadcast said.

Duties of Guardsmen
Captain John C. Hollinger, executive officer of the Third Service Command Training Center, Fort George G. Meade, addressed the company, outlining the purposes of the state guard and the objectives of the camp at Fort Meade for the training of state guardsmen.

He told the group that only the home guard had kept England from being invaded, and for that reason it was necessary to have well trained units in this country in case of any possible emergency.

In event of an invasion, he said, the duty of the home guardsmen would be to contact, harass and delay the movements of the enemy while defending vital installations.

Following drill the squad was given tests in sight, touch and hearing to develop powers of observation. It was announced that next Friday most of the work will be drill in order to prepare for the Memorial Day parade. The men who were not present at Friday's meeting will be placed in the squads next week, it was stated.

TRAINING YOUTH FOR MILITARY LIFE FAVORED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

President Roosevelt says that one of the things which impressed him on his twenty-state tour was the benefit in physical condition and mental alertness that men and women in service and war-workers uniforms have realized.

He thinks the camps and industrial plants ought to be put to good use after the war, possibly requiring the youth of America to give a year's service to the country. He has no specific program and expresses the view that any plan developed probably would be only partly military.

A lot of people, especially parents of boys under military age, have been doing a deal of thinking along that line lately. They're interested in the physical and mental training, and the character building, but it cuts deeper than that.

Despite the fact that their children may not be called for duty in the present conflict, these parents have reached the conclusion that they don't want their lads to have to go into some future war without thorough training. Of course, the hope is that there won't be any further wars, but if the present conflagration has taught us anything it is that security depends on preparedness.

Training Most Important
Preparedness of the individual means security not only for him but for his country. Green troops which go into battle will suffer terrible casualties until they've learned the tricks of war in the hard and bloody way. And while they are learning, they may have lost the war to experienced forces.

The well-trained, well-armed man is the one who will live the longest. The well-trained, well-armed army is the one which will render the best defense of its country.

Having reached this conclusion, many parents are figuring on sending their young hopefuls to military academies as soon as they reach the age for preparatory schooling. With this education a young man would come up to his compulsory military service with a good background.

Compulsory Service

Think that's too hard-boiled? Well, it doesn't represent the ruminating of an arm-chair bachelorette, for I have a small boy of my own, and I've seen plenty of war at first hand. I hate the bloody business but believe the common-sense way is to be prepared for it.

A generation ago compulsory military service didn't suit this democratic country. As a matter of fact we didn't need it, because we were safe behind our ocean barriers. But things have changed.

The other day the Royal Air Force announced that an aviator had made a record North Atlantic flight—a landfall-to-landfall trip from Newfoundland to the United Kingdom—in six hours and twenty minutes. When the ocean can be spanned that quickly, it means that the United States no longer enjoys the security of isolation.

We don't need to think of military training in terms of any such arduous and time-consuming process as is seen in militaristic Germany. That represents an extreme which, of course, is abhorrent to us.

Nazi Youth Trained

German boys serve in the Hitler Youth Movement between the ages of ten and eighteen. They then do three years compulsory military service, after which they are in the reserve for fourteen years and in the Landwehr, or home defense, for nine years more.

The thing that has interested me most about the Nazi training has been that devoted to the youth movement. I was in Germany not long before the war and must admit that never have I seen finer physical specimens than one encountered in the teen age lads who were undergoing intensive exercise in the labor groups and other corps.

Heaven forbid that we emulate the Boche, but after all they have demonstrated what physical training can do.

Missionary To Talk At Brethren Church

Biglerville High Nine Wins Second Game By Drubbing Dillsburg 13-1

CANNERS RALLY FOR TEN RUNS IN 6TH FRAME

Scoring 10 runs in the last half of the sixth inning, the Biglerville high baseball team gained its second straight victory Friday afternoon by defeating Dillsburg high on the Biglerville field 13-1.

Fred Koontz hurled for the Cannners and turned in a fine exhibition. He gave up but two singles, one in the third and another in the fifth inning, fanned seven and did not issue a pass.

For five innings the game was comparatively close with Biglerville pushing over a run in the fourth and two more in the fifth to take a 3-0 lead. Dillsburg tallied its lone run in the sixth.

Petter, Dillsburg hurler, injured his foot in the sixth frame which apparently threw him off his stride and the Cannners staged a big rally. Wonders, relief hurler for the invaders, walked five men during the uprising.

On Tuesday Biglerville will play a return game at Mechanicsburg. On Wednesday Coach Smith's lads downed Mechanicsburg 8-2 at Biglerville.

PLENTY OF HITS ON WEST COAST

San Francisco, May 1 (AP)—If you're discouraged by low scores in big league baseball this season, take a look at the Pacific Coast circuit.

One hundred and two hits! That's the total coast batters collected in four games yesterday: Portland 20, San Diego 17, with the 11-inning score 11-10 for San Diego; Los Angeles 16, Hollywood 17 hits, with Los Angeles winning 9-8; Sacramento 10, Seattle nine hits as Sacramento won 2-1. Business was dull at Oakland; there were only 13 hits as Oakland beat San Francisco 5-1.

What dead ball? The coasters are using last year's lively leftovers.

Riverside, Calif., May 1 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, former New York Yankee outfielder, has hit his first homer as a member of the armed forces.

It sailed over the 345-foot left field wall to bring in three runs and help Santa Ana Air Base to a 14-3 victory over March Field yesterday. He's been playing regularly with the service club for several weeks.

Hoover Addresses Jewish Conference

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—A national conference for Palestine, meeting today to discuss the recent Anglo-American refugee conference and adopt a program to aid the emigration of Jews from Europe, was told by Herbert Hoover that Palestine is "a shining symbol of strength and hope to Jews not only in Europe but throughout the world."

The former President said in a message made public by Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, national chairman of the United Palestine appeal, which called the conference, that "the large part taken by American Jews x x x merits the admiration, sympathy and encouragement of everyone."

Nearly 1,500 delegates from more than 25 national Jewish organizations were expected to attend the first session this afternoon. Dorothy Thompson, Frank E. Gannett and Dr. Stephen S. Wise were listed among the speakers.

Cornell May Win But Can't Get Cup

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—Cornell may win the Adams Cup Regatta today but it won't be eligible for the trophy.

The race will be rowed over the Henley distance of one and five-sixteenths miles on the Schuylkill river beginning at 4 p. m.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 1 (AP)—All three players who won the most valuable player awards in the "AA" minor leagues last year are playing for National league clubs this season and their contest for big league laurels ought to provide one of the more interesting sidelights of the pennant race. . . . Right now you can have your choice between the American Association—Eddie Stanky is hitting .323 for the Cubs—or the International league—Red Barrett won his first start for the Braves with a six' hitter. . . . The Reds' Ray Mueller, who won the Pacific Coast league award, has made a start toward last year's iron man catching stunt by working every game so far but is hitting only .100 and the Cubs' Kewpie Dick Barrett, who almost beat out Mueller, has turned in three hitless innings of relief pitching.

SPORTPOURRI

The National Track and Field championships will have another "second edition" this year in the Pope Plus meet at Passaic, N. J., June 22, two days after the Nationals. . . . The A.A.U. relay titles will be decided there. . . . Manager Eddie Walker promises to put up a genuine non-elastic $1,900 check to get his fighter, Chalky Wright, a chance to regain the New York Model Featherweight championship from Willie Pep. Eddie says he neglected to get a return bout clause in the contract for their first fight because he was so sure the Chalk would win. . . . Danny Litwhiler can't run because of the charley horse he pulled in the "Australian pursuit race" the Phils staged the other day, but it doesn't keep him from walking. He's kept his endurance streak alive by appearing in two games as a pinch hitter and drawing passes both times.

LAST WORD

In case you're still doubtful about the deadness of the balata-baloney baseball, 60 observations in an experiment conducted in the materials testing laboratory at Cooper Union showed that the 1943 model bounced an average of 25.9 per cent lower than the 1942 ball. . . . The scientists didn't get a basehit with either kind.

SERVICE DEPT.

Lieut. Denny Myers of the Navy apparently can't get away from the same kind of troubles he had as Boston college football coach. His squadron team at the Iowa Pre-Flight school rolled up the biggest score of the spring series, 31-0 against Lieut. Meder, one of the American fliers captured after the bombing of Tokyo, was head cheerleader and star half miler at Miami (Ohio) university a few years ago. Maybe it was modesty that made him turn over the cheer leading duties to an assistant during track meets. . . . Score of the opening game of the 90th division baseball tournament at Camp Barkley, Tex., was: Infantry 35, Engineers 12. . . . balata ball?

OCEAN WAVE IS ONLY THREAT TO DEFEAT FLEET

By SID FEDER

Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—Minus much of its face paint and its fireworks—and definitely a "war-baby" this year—the Kentucky Derby will be unfolded for the 69th time today (at 5:30 p. m. CWT), and from end to end of Derbytown, the neighbors' children are convinced it's a cakewalk for Count Fleet.

Only one of 11 other entries—Ocean Wave, stablemate of Whirlaway in Warren Wright's barn—is being given even the faintest chance of sinking the Fleet.

But the Wave walked home with a cracked left fore-hoof last Tuesday. The rest of the field, in which there is a total of 11 colts and one gelding—the high-speed Gold Shower, appears to be able only to give it the good old college try for second or third place.

Long Shots
Blue Swords and Slide Rule are given some slight consideration by the long-shot plungers, but only by those affiliated with the society of two-buck bettors.

If there's going to be any surprise, however, the Wave looks like the fellow who can pull the snapper off his recent triumphs in the Blue Grass stakes and the Derby trial mile and always providing his heel injury would trip him up. It might possibly be Blue Swords and Slide Rule, too.

Anything beyond these three, and possibly Gold Shower, however, is strictly smoking a cigarette on the wrong end.

For instance, there's Amber Light. He's a nice young fellow and he nipped Ocean Wave in the Louisiana Derby. But he's regarded now as strictly out of his league running against these gee-gees at a mile-and-a-quarter and carrying 126 pounds.

Then there is No Wrinkles. Modest Lad, Twosies, Dove Pie and Burnt Cork.

SENATORS MAY PULL SURPRISE IN MAJOR LOOP

By ORLO ROBERTSON

AP Sports Writer

The 1943 baseball season still is in the toddling stage and Uncle Sam has reserved the right to wreck any given club without formal notice but there's a sneaking suspicion that Ossie Bluege has a team in the nation's capitol that is better than the one that ended last season buried in seventh place in the American league.

Today's standings show the Washington Senators nudging the pace setting New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians as the result of their 2 to 1, 10-inning victory over the Yanks yesterday. It's probably too much to expect the Senators to be in third place come World Series time. But if Emil (Dutch) Leonard maintains his early season form, Bluege's first year as a manager is likely to be a happy one.

Johnson Hero

Ellis Clary, third baseman who played in 76 games for the Senators last season after starting with Chattanooga, and Bob Johnson, hard-hitting outfielder obtained from the Athletics, combined to produce the winning tally. Clary led off the tenth with a double, his second hit of the game. A fly ball and an intentional pass got him no closer to home but Johnson crashed through with a single and that was the ball game.

The defeat dropped the Yankees into a tie for first place with the Cleveland Indians who, like all the other teams in the American league, were kept idle by the weather. Each has won five and lost two as compared to the Senators' six and three.

The only two National league games scheduled also were postponed and the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers promptly turned their contest into a double-header today at the Polo Grounds. They also will play a twin bill tomorrow along with all the major league outfields.

Best way to get maximum corn production is through greater use of hybrids, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Deanna Durbin's latest and most eagerly awaited picture, "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday," comes Monday to the Majestic theatre. The new Universal film, Deanna's eleventh in her series of successes dating from "Three Smart Girls," is said to reveal the star as an outstanding dramatic actress as well as the most popular songstress of the cinema.

Produced and directed by Bruce Manning, the story is described as one of timely interest and importance. Action, for the most part, takes place in the glamorous society circles of San Francisco while many exciting sequences are devoted to the perilous aftermath following Japanese encroachments in the Orient.

WEDNESDAY

No other picture ever made as big as "Gone With the Wind," has cost so much to produce; runs so long; or has been seen by so many people, according to the Audience Research Institute. The world premiere that took place in Atlanta, Georgia, in December, 1939, was followed by road show engagements, throughout the country during the following year; after the road show engagements the David O. Selznick picture, distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was sent out once again, in its original form, but at popular prices. The showing of the film at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday is in exactly the same form that it was

THURSDAY

Thrillingly dramatizing the spirit of defiance and will to freedom of the people of Norway in their struggle against the Nazi invaders, Paramount's release, "The Avengers," comes to the Majestic Theatre on Thursday. Tense, dramatic and spectacular, the picture is the first to deal with the Norwegian underground movement and with the part played in it by British agents and by the Commandos.

Made in England with the full cooperation of the Royal Norwegian government and the British War office, "The Avengers" is a powerful romance, filmed against the seething background of war, with handsome Hugh Williams and blonde Deborah Kerr as the lovers.

MONTGOMERY TAKES JOHNSON

By TED MEIER

Scranton, Pa., May 1 (AP)—Having bested tough Gene Johnson, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, in a 10-rounder here last night, Philadelphia's Bob Montgomery was primed today for his scrap Monday night at Holyoke, Massachusetts, against Henri Vasquez.

Montgomery, who meets Beau Jack May 21 in New York for the lightweight championship, gave Johnson a sound drubbing to win a unanimous decision although the Elizabeth negro finished strong to take the 10th stanza.

"He's tough, all right," mused Montgomery in his dressing room afterwards. "You bet," chimed in Frankie Thomas, Montgomery's manager. "This Johnson has beaten Cleo Shans and he's no easy mark."

"He hurt me with rights in the second and fourth," Johnson asserted, but smiled happily over lasting the route with the "Philadelphia Armstrong."

Harrisburg, May 1 (AP)—The last of the hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians who obtained aid from WPA projects since the grim mid-depression year of 1935 will leave the agency's rolls before May 15.

Richard Irvin, state WPA administrator, said today that only nine or 10 projects still are in operation and asserted these had been delayed by bad weather but would be wound up speedily.

The federal government has ordered all WPA activities halted by May 1. Irvin said 90 to 100 projects were ended last month and personnel reduced from about 6,500 to 500.

Closed 1,600 Projects "While we tried to meet the deadline, we can't just go away and leave a ditch unfilled or a street paving job unfinished," Irvin explained.

The state office closed more than 1,000 projects, which were aiding 25,000 men and women, since the dissolution order was received last February.

"We know a great many of our people are not being absorbed by either relief or industry but are being cared for by relatives who are now earning sufficient money to afford the burden," Irvin declared.

STATE AFL ACTS ON 50 MEASURES AT ANNUAL MEET

By MARTIN H. BRACKBILL, Harrisburg, May 1 (AP)—Four Pittsburgh men today were candidates for the secretary-treasurership of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor as the three-day 42nd annual convention neared its close.

Earl C. Bohr, Charles Miller, Scott Marshall and William McNellis were nominated for the post made vacant by the resignation last March of David William when he became deputy state Labor and Industry secretary.

Acting on more than 50 resolutions yesterday, the delegates referred to the federation's executive council a request for a congressional inquiry into speeches of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, war hero and airlines executive.

"Support Roosevelt" Other resolutions calling on President Roosevelt to use his authority to bring about peace between the AFL and CIO and asking an immediate invasion of Europe were defeated as well as several calling for collaboration by American, British and Russian trade unions.

Approved were resolutions pledging "staunch and unwavering support of President Roosevelt's prosecution of the war," urging rigid price control and flexibility in the government's wage stabilization program to correct any inequities and asking the Republican legislative majority to adopt "a positive and progressive program."

Countess To Get $2,000,000 Estate

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—Thrice-married Countess Anastasia Irene Warden Citadini will receive approximately $2,000,000 from the estate of her second husband, John B. Warden, former Standard Oil company executive.

The countess was awarded the major portion of the estate by Special Master Robert W. Archbald, Jr., yesterday after 15 years of litigation. Warden's will, probated in 1927, gave her a life interest in his $4,000,000 net estate and provided that on her death it was to go to the American hospital in Paris.

Under the award the estate will be divided into two equal parts. The countess—now 46 and estranged from her third husband—will receive 82 per cent of one part, the remainder going to the hospital. She will receive a life income from the other half, 85 per cent of the residue going to the hospital and 15 per cent to a nephew.

Cartridge Traps Cop In Thefts
Johnstown, Pa., May 1 (AP)—A 28-year-old city patrolman was held today, charged with stealing $375.50 from a Main street beauty parlor located on his beat.
Detective James Orris filed a charge of larceny against Dorsey Brown, 28, the officer, before Alderman Louis Saylor.
Chief of Police A. J. McDevitt quoted Brown as admitting the theft and telling also of breaking into a safe in a plumbing shop some time ago and taking money from two hat shops.
The chief said a chromium plated cartridge, similar to those issued policemen for their Sam Browne belts, led to Brown's arrest. Detectives investigating the beauty shop burglary, found the cartridge, determined Brown was on duty and at his home found one cartridge missing from his belt, McDevitt said.
Streamlined plastic tableware is used by the United States Navy, featuring non-slip and non-drip cups and saucers.

Riding with Russell

The new girl greaser at the filling station is just learning the business from the ground up.
When the oil filter ceases working there's a good chance that its cartridge is clogged, but don't jump to this conclusion unless you have also made a few simple observations. First look to see if there is any evidence of oil leaking around the inlet and outlet passages. With no signs of trouble here then check the passages for clogging.
If the cartridge has been in service only a few thousand miles the checks I have suggested should be made very carefully as it is obvious that the cartridge cannot be clogged.
Great Expectations
Now the automobile dealers are getting worried because the public has been led to believe that immediately after the war we are going to have all sorts of radical new models. At this writing the industry is planning to produce a slightly modernized version of the 1942 chassis for immediate post-war demand. This will certainly answer the purpose of those who will be in dire need of new equipment, but the dealers are afraid the general public, hopes having been raised by lurid magazine articles, will be keenly disappointed. To this I'd like to add my own two cents' worth to the effect that even when the new stuff gets rolling off the lines there will be much disillusionment. Plenty of straws are in the wind to indicate that the crystal gazers are all wrong about what's ahead in motordom.
Those of you who have been perplexed by difficulty in starting the engine will be interested to learn that I have completed my study of this growing problem and find that the trouble is due to leakage around the gaskets and plugs at the bottom of the carburetor jets. Actually the carburetor bowl goes bone dry when the car stands over night. No start is then possible until the fuel pump fills up the bowl. It may take considerable cranking.
Readers have been mystified by this condition because of the fact that invariably an engine so afflicted will start instantly and then stall, not re-starting until after considerable cranking. Some of the gasoline that has leaked out gets into the intake to provide enough gas for that odd and brief start. Then the engine starves for fuel until the bowl fills up. When installing new gaskets at the jet bases the carburetor should be removed from the car and carefully tested.
Time as a Tool
If the service man keeps your car a little longer than you feel is necessary, and checking up on him you find he is charging some time which does not seem to be justified by active work on the car, don't feel that he is taking you for a ride. He is doubtless putting time to work in an effort to assure you a good job. Perhaps he is going to tighten up the head bolts when the engine cools off, or he may be letting the engine run to limber up the new rings.
Before the war it was customary for a mechanic to take a half hour, sometimes longer, to road test a job after it came from the shop. You rightly figured that he was at work during this test, because he would get out to make adjustments en route and usually do a few extra things upon returning to the shop. Today he cannot do this so he must confine his testing to the shop or his own premises. It takes time. You must pay for it. And it will pay you to have this certainty of good workmanship.
Keep Off That Pedal
Drivers who habitually ride the clutch pedal and who don't care if this results in need for a new clutch plate are due for a shock when faced with need for service. This pedal riding habit usually plays havoc with the clutch release mechanism. If it does not actually wear it out the habit makes the clutch release annoyingly noisy.
When you hear a motorist say that the battery of his car is dead and that when he has time he'll have it recharged you can be certain that he is headed for trouble. A discharged battery normally brings on sulphation in the form of minute crystals, but if allowed to remain discharged sulphation becomes extreme. The sulphate crystals enlarge, grow together and become almost irreducible. When the battery is put on charge heat is created and this, in turn, breaks down the grids.

You can, however, prevent extreme sulphation. The best plan is to keep the battery fully charged at all times. If it does go dead for no fault of your own try to have it recharged at once.
Back to Good Riding
If your car seems suddenly to be riding very hard, and you take into account the springtime frost heaves in the road, the chances are that the job needs two things attended to at once. Have the shock absorbers checked to see if they have enough fluid. Have the springs taken off and re-arched. This, of course, applies only to the car's leaf springs, not to the coils. Springs of the coil type will weaken in time, but such weakness is not common.
We must, of course, figure that as tires age and thin down they give us poorer riding. Also we are overinflating about ten to fifteen percent to get better tire mileage. At this season of year it might be well to eliminate this overinflation, small as it is, in an effort to protect the car from too much road and street shock. When the roads are more normal you can then give the tires a little more air.
Speaking of riding qualities reminds me to add the caution against expecting a good ride at this time of year if the car has a higher than normal proportion of what is known as unsprung weight. Cars with heavy wheels, brake drums and steering connections, to mention a few of the parts that are "below" the springs, will tend to bang on the road when the latter's surface isn't smooth. There's nothing you can do about this except to take it easy. Owners of such cars may never have previously noticed this because the roads they traveled, up to now, were unusually smooth.
Rich or Too Lean?
I am indebted to a young man who reads these chats about our cars for a useful idea to prove whether the engine is misbehaving during the warm-up period because its mixture is too lean or too rich.

Lutherans Study Negro Missions
Jamestown, N. Y., May 1 (AP)—The New York conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America is studying a proposal to begin missionary work among negroes in metropolitan areas.
One phase of the plan, suggested at the conference's 73rd annual convention here yesterday, contemplates relocation of churches in areas where war industries and housing projects have increased negro populations.
More than 300 delegates from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Alabama, Florida and the District of Columbia are attending the meeting.
